Read the paragraph. Find the text and answer the questions.

Tattooing has been carried out for thousands of years. Leaders in Britain, Egypt, and Peru wore tattoos to mark their status, or their bravery. Today, among the Maori people of New Zealand, full-facial tattoos are still used to identify the wearer as a member of a certain family and to symbolize the person's achievements in their life. In recent years, tattooing has gained popularity, mainly for people wanting a sense of culture and identity.

1. What has been carried out for thousands of years? _____

2. Why do Maori people put tattoos on their face? _____

3. Why have tattoos gained popularity? _____
