

ESL Kids World: Extreme weather

Cut out the sentences. Match them correctly.

Thunderstorms

are dangerous because they produce lightning.

Sandstorms

are dangerous because they blind people with sand.

Blizzards

are dangerous because they bury people under snow.

Hailstorms

are dangerous because they damage cars with balls of ice.

Lightning storms

are dangerous because they electrocute people.

Tornadoes

are dangerous because strong winds destroy houses and trees.

Floods

are dangerous because they drown people.